Cultural ambassador of the European Union, EUBO was founded in 1985 in Britain as a major initiative of the European Year of Music to celebrate the 300th anniversary of three great Baroque musicians: Bach, Scarlatti and Haendel. Since then, more than 600 musicians have played over 900 concerts in 54 countries worldwide.

The activities of the European Union Baroque Orchestra have been at a standstill since 2018/2019 following Brexit. In full agreement with the historic founders and latest managers, Fondazione ICONS set about the resumption of the orchestra's activities, bringing EUBO to Italy in November 2022. ICONS is an Italian non-profit foundation active in the development of large-scale cultural projects, and a leading organization in scientific communication active in the field of EU-funded projects, which supports EUBO through the provision of annual scholarships to the orchestra's musicians and takes care of its artistic and organisational structure.

Yours Sincerely,

Mario Martinoli
Artistic Director
